St. Stanislaus College

BAY ST. LOUIS, MISS.

PROSPECTUS.

Founded in 1855, this institution was in 1870, chartered by the Legislature of Mississippi and, by the same act empowered to confer the usual Collegiate degrees. Since its inception the College has steadily increased in public esteem and in the number of its students. To meet this gratifying growth, the buildings have been repeatedly enlarged, the curriculum widened and the best improvements, both educational and domestic, introduced.

END.

The harmonious and co-ordinate development of the heart, the mind, and the body is the primary end of the Institution. To attain this three-fold result, the Faculty leave untried no means which an enlightened policy can suggest.

Religion being an integral part of life, is taught both by precept and practice, and its principles are regarded as the basis upon which all sound culture must be founded. Though uncompromisingly Catholic in tone and teaching, the College authorities welcome moral students of other denominations and leave their religious opinions unrestricted. However, for the sake of order and discipline, such students are required to assist at the ordinary exercises of public worship.

Conducted by the Brothers of the Sacred Heart, a body of men who make the education of youth a life profession, they naturally bring to their task the accumulated experience of years, methods which public opinion has stamped as unexcelled and a devotedness which seeks, above all, the best interest of each student.

LOCATION.

Along the southern coast of the State of Mississippi lies a region richly dowered with natural beauties. In front, the sparkling waters of the Mexican Gulf stretch far away to the south; in the rear, forests of lordly pines, after charging the air with health-giving aroma, serve to ward off the chilling blasts from the north. At the extreme western end of this delightful belt, fifty-two miles from New Orleans by the Louisville and Nashville Railroad, the shore line makes a crescent-like curve, and along the picturesque beach of the inlet thus formed, stretches the thriving town of Bay St. Louis.

Here, surrounded by beauties of nature and art, on a rising ground, at one of the horns of the crescent stands St. Stanislaus College. Far enough from New Orleans to escape its distractions, Bay St. Louis is yet close enough to it to enjoy all the conveniences of a large city, and thus combining the double charm of city with country life, salutary isolation with wholesome climate, the Bay is peculiarly fitted as a site for an educational institution. In addition, the spacious well-ventilated buildings, the shaded campus, the balmy sea breezes and the opportunities for bathing afforded by the Gulf all concur to make the College a delightful home, admirably adapted to promote the health, comfort and intellectual progress of its pupils.

DISCIPLINE.

The system of government is that of a large well-regulated family and the faculty, as replacing the parents, insist on uniform compliance with the established rules of discipline. However, the students being at all times under the supervision of a Prefect, aided by several assistants, infraction of the rules are, in a great measure, prevented. Gentlemanly conduct is required of the students at all times and in all places, and they are moreover strictly held to observe towards themselves, their companions and their superiors, those courtesies which are the distinguishing mark of Christian gentlemen.

HYGIENE.

Undue attention to athletics at the expense of studies is not permitted; while on the other hand students are advised, expected, even strongly recommended to take part in healthy out-door sport. Base ball, foot-ball in a modified form, racing and jumping receive much attention, and as an incentive to their cultivation, athletic games, to which the public are invited, take place in the spring and fall of each year. Two military companies, fully equipped and officered by students, furnish another excellent means for healthy exercise and salutary discipline. Personal cleanliness is exacted by rule, and all students are held to regular bathing and frequent change of clothing.

The College fare is wholesome in quality, abundant in quantity and varied in preparation, and this supplemented by regular habits, pure air, artesian water and wisely regulated alternations of study and recreation, seldom fails to build up the weakest, or to strengthen the hardest constitutions.

In case of sickness a comfortable infirmary, a competent physician in daily attendance and an experienced infirmarian are guarantees of intelligent and assiduous care. However, as soon as serious symptoms begin to develop in any case, the parents of the sick person are, as a matter of precaution, immediately informed.

SESSION.

The scholastic year lasts ten months, beginning during the first week of September, and closing towards the end of June. It is divided into two nearly equal terms, the second of which invariably begins February 1st.

Examinations are held at the close of each term. There are no extraordinary holidays at Christmas, Mardi Gras or Easter, hence, pupils will not be permitted to leave the College during these seasons. By failing to enter on the opening day, or by absence during the session, except in case of sickness or death in his family, a student forfeits all claim to class honors or medals at the end of the session.

ADMISSION.

Though pupils are received at any time during the year, parents and guardians are reminded that it will add materially to the contentment as well as progress of their sons or wards, to have them enter at the beginning of the session. Applicants unknown to any of the Faculty should be properly introduced or recommended.

Students should come provided with sufficient clothing and toilet articles. However, it is neither necessary nor advisable to bring clothing for the whole year. At each change of season, a list is issued indicating the additions needed for each student's wardrobe. As a guide to the inexperienced, a memorandum showing the clothing needed for a whole year is appended: 12 shirts, 12 pocket handkerchiefs, 12 pair of stockings, 4 cravats, 4 pair of drawers, 6 towels, 6 table napkins, 4 summer coats, 6 summer pantaloons, 2 winter coats, 2 pair winter pantaloons, 3 pair shoes, 1 double woolen blanket, combs, brushes, blacking, etc.

EXPENSES.

Board, Tuition, Washing, Bed and Bedding, and Doctor's Fees, per session of 10 months, payable half yearly, in advance.....	$250 00
Vacation, if spent at the Institution.....	50 00

REFERENCE—The Director of St. Aloysius Commercial Institute, corner of Esplanade and Rampart streets, New Orleans.

General Regulations.

1. Pupils are admitted at any time during the year.
2. On entering, each student is examined and placed in the class for which his previous acquirements have fitted him.
3. A branch of study once commenced shall not be discontinued without permission from the Prefect of Studies.
4. Every three months examinations are held, the results of which are incorporated in the Bulletins sent quarterly to parents and guardians.
5. Weekly testimonials, both for Conduct and Application, are awarded to deserving students. Parents are invited to require their sons to enclose these cards in their weekly letters.
6. All letters sent or received by students are subject to inspection by the President or his representative.
7. No book, periodical or newspaper, shall be allowed circulation within the College unless it has been approved by the President or one appointed for that purpose. Objectionable books will be withheld till the owner leaves the College. Those of an immoral character will not only be immediately destroyed, but will, besides, subject the possessor to punishment.
8. Except during the Christmas holidays, students will not be permitted to receive boxes or baskets containing eatables.
9. No student will be allowed to go home for Christmas.
10. Unlimited pocket money being a prolific source of evil among students, parents are requested to supply their sons with only such as is needed to cover actual expenses and furnish reasonable recreation; or better, to deposit a sufficient amount with the College authorities advising them to dispense it as circumstances may require.

Plan of Studies.

The Scholastic Matter is distributed into three departments: THE PREPARATORY, THE COMMERCIAL, and THE COLLEGIATE.

Preparatory Department:

The programme of studies pursued in this department is preparatory to the higher courses, and students who have completed it are entitled to enter either the Commercial or the Collegiate department.

FIRST YEAR.

READING.—Young Catholic Fourth; Supplementary Reading of Simple Authors.

SPELLING.—Oral and Written—Town.
Spelling contests monthly.

GEOGRAPHY.—Sadlier's No. 2, commenced; Outline Maps.

GRAMMAR.—Elements; Sentence Building; Empirical Correction of Mistakes—Bullions.

COMPOSITION.—Reproduction of Reading Lessons; Letter Writing; Simple Narratives.

ARITHMETIC.—Through Fractions—Robinson.

CATECHISM.—Daily Recitation; Explanation of Words—Baltimore.

ELECTIVE.—Latin.

SECOND YEAR.

ARITHMETIC.—Fractions; Decimals; Denominate Numbers.—Robinson.

READING.—Young Catholic Fourth; Declamations and Recitations.

SPELLING.—Oral and Written; Definitions and Synonyms; Inter-class spelling contests monthly.—Town.

GRAMMAR.—Etymology; Exercises on formation of plurals, genders, cases, moods and tenses; Empirical Syntax.—Bullions.

COMPOSITION.—From Outlines; Reproductions; Letter Writing; Capitalization and Punctuation.

GEOGRAPHY.—Sadlier's No. 2 completed; Map Drawing.

U. S. HISTORY.—From the Discovery of America to the Revolution.—Sadlier.

BIBLE HISTORY.—New Testament.—Gilmour.

CATECHISM.—Recitation and Explanation.—Baltimore.

ELECTIVE.—Latin.

Commercial Department.

This course may be completed in two years, and when the character and needs of a large fraction of our young men are considered, it will appear the most practical and, in some respects, the most important that an educational institution can afford.

However, believing that something more than a mere knowledge of Book-Keeping is necessary to fit a young man for the successful pursuit of a business career, the Faculty of St. Stanislaus have arranged for this course a schedule of study which, while not imparting a finished education, will, at least, give a thorough grasp of principles and lay the foundation upon which any intelligent young man can by future reading raise a fair superstructure of knowledge.

Those who will have completed the entire course, and proved, by successful examination, that they have mastered the subject-matter, will be entitled to a Commercial Diploma.

SECOND COMMERCIAL.

BOOK-KEEPING.—Single Entry completed; Double Entry commenced.

ARITHMETIC.—Percentage and its applications; Proportions.—Robinson.

READING.—Young Catholic Fifth; Principles of Elocution.

GRAMMAR.—Syntax completed; Exercises.—Bullions.

COMPOSITION.—Selections from Reader; Imitation from Standard Authors; Irving and Goldsmith; Letter Writing; Punctuation.

BIBLE HISTORY.—Old Testament.—Gilman.

CHRISTIAN DOCTRINE.—Recitation and Explanation.—Kinkaid's Baltimore.

STUDIES RECOMMENDED: Short-hand, Typewriting or Telegraphy.

FIRST COMMERCIAL.

BOOK-KEEPING.—Double Entry completed; Auxiliary Books explained; Business forms and correspondence.

ARITHMETIC.—Review of Percentage; Interest; Discount; Stock Jobbing; Equation of Payments; Foreign and Domestic Exchange; Mensuration.—Robinson's Higher.

COMMERCIAL LAW.—Outlines; particular attention to Negotiable Papers.

GRAMMAR.—Syntax completed; Exercises and False Syntax; Orthography.—Bullions.

COMPOSITION.—Narrations; Historical Sketches; Imitations from English Classics; Addison, Swift, Hawthorne, in prose; Pope, Longfellow, Goldsmith, in verse.—Hart.

CHRISTIAN DOCTRINE.—Daily Recitation and Explanation.—Kinkaid's Baltimore.

STUDIES RECOMMENDED.—Short-hand, Typewriting or Telegraphy.

Collegiate Department:

This department has two parallel courses: The Classical and the Advanced English—the former of which leads to the degree of Bachelor of Arts (B. A.) and the latter to the Bachelor of Letters (B. L.) Though both courses are designed to impart a wide scholarship, and lead to a well rounded education, the former prepares more especially for the learned professions.

While convinced that the Ancient Classics form the basis of any liberal education, the Faculty of St. Stanislaus further hold that a thorough mastery of the English language and an intimate acquaintance with its masterpieces are, to say the least, as essential and certainly more important in an education designed to meet the needs of the present age. Hence, though Latin and Greek are continuously taught throughout the course, and a working knowledge of them required for the graduation in the A. B. course, still the ability to write and speak the English language with correctness, force and grace, and proficiency in Mathematics and the Sciences, will be even more imperatively demanded to attain graduation honors.

FIRST YEAR—FRESHMAN.

CLASSICAL AND ADVANCED ENGLISH.

The advanced English omits Latin and Greek, and substitutes Science and study of English Authors.

ARITHMETIC.—Percentage and its application; Proportions.—Robinson.

GEOGRAPHY.—North and South America; United States; Map Drawing.—Sadlier.

LATIN.—Etymology completed; Corresponding Exercises, Latin Recitations; Reading; Historia Sacra.—Schultz.

U. S. HISTORY.—From the Revolution to Our Own Times; Maps of Campaigns.—Sadlier.

BIBLE HISTORY.—Old Testament.—Gilmour.

CHRISTIAN DOCTRINE.—Daily Recitation and Explanation.—Kirkend's Baltimore.

ELECTIVE.—Book-Keeping.

SECOND YEAR—SOPHOMORE.

CLASSICAL AND ADVANCED ENGLISH.

The Advanced English omits Latin and Greek, and substitutes Science and study of English Authors.

ENGLISH.—Etymology and Syntax reviewed; Narrations; Historical Sketches; Analysis and Imitation of English Classics; Addison, Swift, Hawthorne, in prose; Pope, Longfellow, in verse.—Hart.

LATIN.—Syntax completed; Exercises corresponding with the Grammar; Reading; Viri Romae and Nepos.—Schultz.

GREEK.—Beginner's Greek Book completed.—White.

ARITHMETIC.—Review of Percentage and its Applications, Roots and Powers.—Robinson's Higher.

ALGEBRA.—To Involution.—Robinson's Elementary.

GEOMETRY.—Lines, Angles and Polygons; Proportions, Problems and Propositions.—Robinson.

GEOGRAPHY.—Ancient and Modern.—Sadlier.

HISTORY.—From the Foundation of the Roman Empire to the Discovery of America.—Fredet.

CHRISTIAN DOCTRINE.—Daily Recitation and Explanation.—Kinkrad's Baltimore.

CHURCH HISTORY.—Outlines.—Gilmour.

ELECTIVE STUDIES.—Book-Keeping and Business Forms.

THIRD YEAR—JUNIOR.

CLASSICAL.

ENGLISH.—Study of two of Shakespeare's Plays; Analysis and Imitation of Standard Authors: Macaulay, Newman, De Quincey, in prose; Chaucer, Dryden and Tennyson, in verse; Prosody and Scansion.—Hart.

LATIN.—Etymology and Syntax reviewed; Corresponding Exercises; Latin Conversation; Reading: Caesar, Ovid and Selections.—Schubz.

GREEK.—Etymology completed; Exercises corresponding with the Grammar; Reading: Anthology and Xenophon's Anabasis.—Seiffert.

ARITHMETIC.—The whole subject reviewed.—Robinson.

ALGEBRA.—Elementary completed.—Robinson.

GEOMETRY.—Circles and their Properties; Problems; Mensuration.—Robinson.

TRIGONOMETRY.—Elements and Applications.

SURVEYING.—Compass, Plotting; Field Work.

HISTORY.—From the Discovery of America to the present time.—Fredet.

EVIDENCES OF RELIGION.—Lectures by Professor.—Wilmer.

PHILOSOPHY.—Logic and Ethics.—Hill.

REFERENCES.—Jouin, Coppers, Aquinas, Ethicus, Balme, Harper and the Stonyhurst Series.

ELECTIVE STUDIES.—Commercial Law, Physics and Book-Keeping.

ADVANCED ENGLISH.

Same as Classical, except that instead of Latin and Greek are substituted;

PHYSICAL GEOGRAPHY.—Planetary Movements; Magnetism; Volcanic Action; Seismic Forces; Tides, Waves and Currents.—Mauzy.

PHYSICS.—Mechanical Powers, Hydrostatics, Hydrodynamics, Heat, Optics; Experiments by the Students.—Peck's Ganot.

CHEMISTRY.—Nomenclature; Elementary; Inorganic and Theoretical.—Elliott and Storer.

ELECTIVE STUDIES.—Book-Keeping, Commercial Law, and Legal Forms.

FOURTH YEAR—SENIOR.

CLASSICAL.

ENGLISH.—Study of Extracts from Authors of different Periods; Literary Criticisms of two additional Plays of Shakespeare's, and Milton's Paradise Lost; Versification; American and British Orators; Dramatic Poetry.

LATIN.—Reading: Virgil's Epics; Selections from Cicero; History of Literature; Antiquities; Grammatical Review.

GREEK.—Syntax completed and reviewed; Corresponding Exercises; Reading: Homer's Epics; Selections from Plato and the Greek Fathers.—Seiffert.

LITERATURE.—Comparative Influence of Continental Literature on English: French, German, Italian and Spanish Writers briefly reviewed.—Schlegel.

ARITHMETIC.—Mathematical Problems.—Robinson.

ALGEBRA.—Radicals, Quadratics, Progressions, Permutations and Series.—Robinson's University.

GEOMETRY.—Intersection of Planes and Solids; Solution of Problems and Demonstration of Propositions; Supplementary Problems specially translated from French Authors.—Robinson.

TRIGONOMETRY.—Completed; Work from Actual Measurements.

SURVEYING.—Compass and Theodolite; Use of Instruments; Plotting of Fields Surveyed by the Class; Levelling.

HISTORY.—Ancient completed.—Fredet.

EVIDENCES OF RELIGION.—Lectures by Professor.—Witmer.

PHILOSOPHY.—Metaphysics: Lectures and Dictations.

REFERENCES.—Jouin, Coppens, Balmes, Aquinas, Ethicus, Harper, and the Stonyhurst Series.

ELECTIVE STUDIES.—Chemistry, Physical Geography and Astronomy.

ADVANCED ENGLISH.

Same as Classical, except that instead of Latin and Greek are substituted:

PHYSICS.—Acoustics; Electricity; Experiments with Apparatus; Lectures.—Peck's Guinot.

CHEMISTRY.—Organic and Analytical; Laboratory Work; Different Authors for reference.

PHYSICAL GEOGRAPHY.—Meteorology; Plants; Animal Life.—Maury.

ASTRONOMY.—General Principles and Laws.

Elementary Studies.

For the benefit of Minims and others who are unable to enter the above course an Elementary Department has been organized, in which Reading, Writing, Spelling and the Rudiments of Arithmetic will be carefully taught until such time as the beginners are prepared to join a regular class.

Penmanship.

This important branch is carefully and continuously taught throughout the entire course. In each class half an hour is daily devoted to its theory and practice.

Students not following the course of Languages may attend a special class in Penmanship, directed by expert penmen, in which free-hand movement and rapid writing receive particular attention.

French Course.

FASQUELLE'S METHOD.

GRAMMAIRE FRANÇAISE.	Frères du Sacré Cœur.
EXERCICES CORRESPONDANTS.	Frères du Sacré Cœur.
FABLES DE LA FONTAINE.
CHOIX DE LECTURES.	Daniel.
ESTHER ET ATHALIE.	Racine.

Elective Studies.

ELOCUTION.

FRENCH.

GERMAN.

SPANISH.

PHONOGRAPHY.

TYPE-WRITING.

DRAWING.—Mechanical and Architectural.

MUSIC.—Vocal and Instrumental.

TELEGRAPHY.

With the consent of parents or guardians, students in the regular course may elect one or more of the above studies as supplementary work.

Problems and Propositions

IN MATHEMATICS AND PHYSICAL SCIENCE PROPOSED IN THE EXAMINATION FOR GRADUATION.

1895-96.

ARITHMETIC.

- 1.—There is a certain quantity of coal now on a dock, and more coal is running on it also, from a shoot, at a uniform rate. Six men can clear the dock in one hour, but 11 men can clear it in 20 minutes; how long would it take 4 men to do the same?
- 2.—If $\frac{3}{4}$ of an inch of rain fall, how many barrels will be caught by a cistern which drains a roof 52 ft. by 38 ft.?
- 3.—A distiller sold whisky, losing 4%; keeping $18 of the proceeds, he gave the remainder to an agent to buy rye, 8% commission. He lost in all $32; what was the whisky worth?

ALGEBRA.

- 1.—A man has borrowed $60, what sum shall he pay daily to cancel the debt in 60 days; interest being allowed on the sum borrowed for the whole time and on each payment from the time it is made to the end of 60 days, at the rate of 10% per annum?
- 2.—A sets out from London to York and B at the same time sets out from York to London, both traveling uniformly. A reaches York 25 hours and B reaches London 36 hours, after they have met on the road. Find in what time each has performed the journey?

$$3.—\text{Given } \left\{ \frac{1}{1+x} \left(\frac{1}{1+x} \right)^{\frac{1}{2}} \right\}^{\frac{1}{2}} = \frac{1-2x}{12}$$

Required to find x .

GEOMETRY.

- 1.—A tin vessel having a circular mouth 9 inches in diameter, a bottom $4\frac{1}{2}$ inches in diameter, and a depth of 10 inches is $\frac{1}{4}$ part full of water; what is the diameter of a ball which can be put in and just be covered by the water?
- 2.—Four equal circular pieces of uniform thickness, are to be cut from a circular plate of same thickness and worth $67. Supposing there is no waste, what is the worth of each of the four, and what is the worth of the outer portion which is left?
- 3.—To prove that if squares be described on 3 sides of a right-angled triangle and the extremities of the adjacent sides be joined, the triangles so formed are equivalent to the given triangle and to each other.

TRIGONOMETRY and SURVEYING.

- 1.—A navigator found, by observation, that the summit of a certain mountain, which he supposed to be 45 minutes of a degree distant, had an altitude above the sea horizon of $31' 2''$. Now, on the supposition that the earth's radius is 3956 miles, and the observer's dip was $4' 15''$, what was the height of the mountain?
- 2.—It is required to find the area of a field from the following notes:

BEARING :	DISTANCES :
N $33^{\circ} 30'$ E	35.30
N 76° E	16
S	9
S 10° W	11.29
S 75° W	13.70
S $20^{\circ} 30'$ W	10.30
W	16.20

PHYSICS.

- 1.—A current of not less than .016 ampère is to be sent through an external resistance of 360 ohms. What is the smallest number of Leclanché cells, each with E. M. F. 1.4 volts and resistance 15 ohms, by which this can be effected. What would be the maximum strength of current obtainable if double this number of cells were used?
- 2.—Under what visual angle does a line of 30 feet appear at a distance of 18 feet?
- 3.—What is the focal distance of a double-convex lens when the distances of the image and object are respectively 5 and 36 centimeters?

At the invitation of the "United States Commission to the Paris Exposition of 1889," this College prepared an extensive exhibit, comprising specimens of plain and ornamental Penmanship, Sets of Book-Keeping, Students' portfolios of Daily Class Work, Mathematical Drawings and Demonstrations, and Diagrams and Descriptions of Experiments in the Physical Sciences.

The display merited a flattering opinion from the United States Commissioner of Educational Exhibits, as the appended extracts will show, and at the Exposition attracted the attention of all interested in the school work.

The Jury of Examiners awarded to the College a diploma for which was the highest award to single schools and colleges, gold medals being reserved for State, County or City Systems of Education.

À L'EXPOSITION UNIVERSELLE DE 1889.
II Avenue de la Bourdonnais

To President St. Stanislaus College:

Dear Sir:

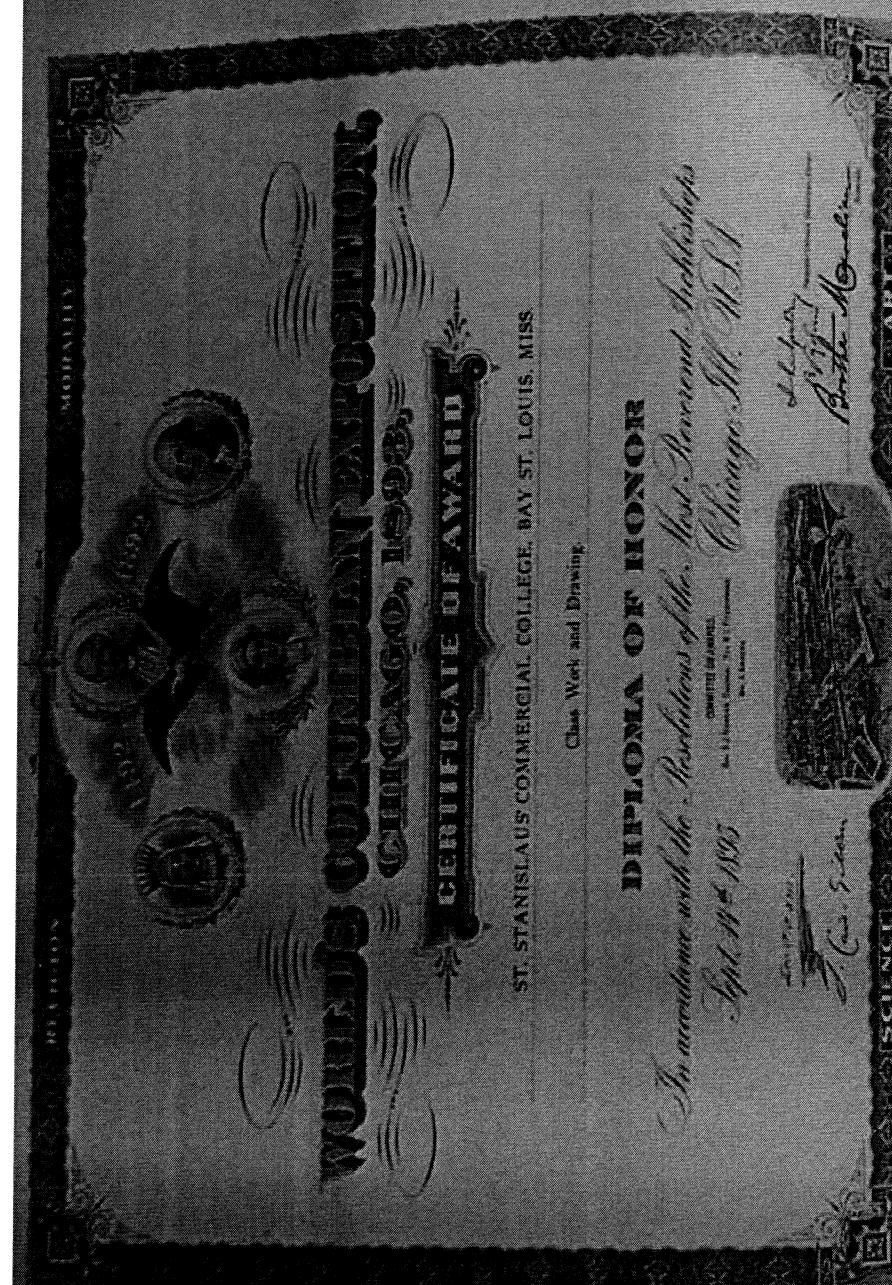

I think your material compares very favorably indeed with any that has been received, and shows undoubtedly that you teach well all that you profess.

You were awarded a Silver Medal and will receive the Diploma after a few months through the Secretary of State.

Thanking you for the fine exhibit you have made, I remain, yours truly,

C. Wellman Parks

U. S. Supt. of Group 2, Paris Exposition of 1889.

World's Columbian Exhibition

In connection with the Catholic Educational Exhibit at the Chicago Exposition, St. Stanislaus College made a display of students' work, far surpassing in quality and quantity the exhibit sent by it to the Paris Exposition of 1889.

The Exhibit comprised:

12 Volumes, bound, 300 pages each.

Mathematics, Literature, Criticism, Languages and Studies in the Sciences.

8 Portfolios of Drawings.

Pen, Linear and Architectural. Besides many large crayon sketches and illuminated wall tablets to illustrate the various styles of Plain and Ornamental Penmanship.

As at the Paris Exposition, this work won many encomiums and was awarded by the official examiners appointed by the Exposition authorities and approved by the United States Government.

A MEDAL AND DIPLOMA

On account of delay in the receipt of this award, fac-similes cannot be shown in this year's catalogue but are reserved for next year's.

Moreover, the College has received from the Examining Commission named by the Bishops of the United States the following flattering award:

Department of Physical Science.

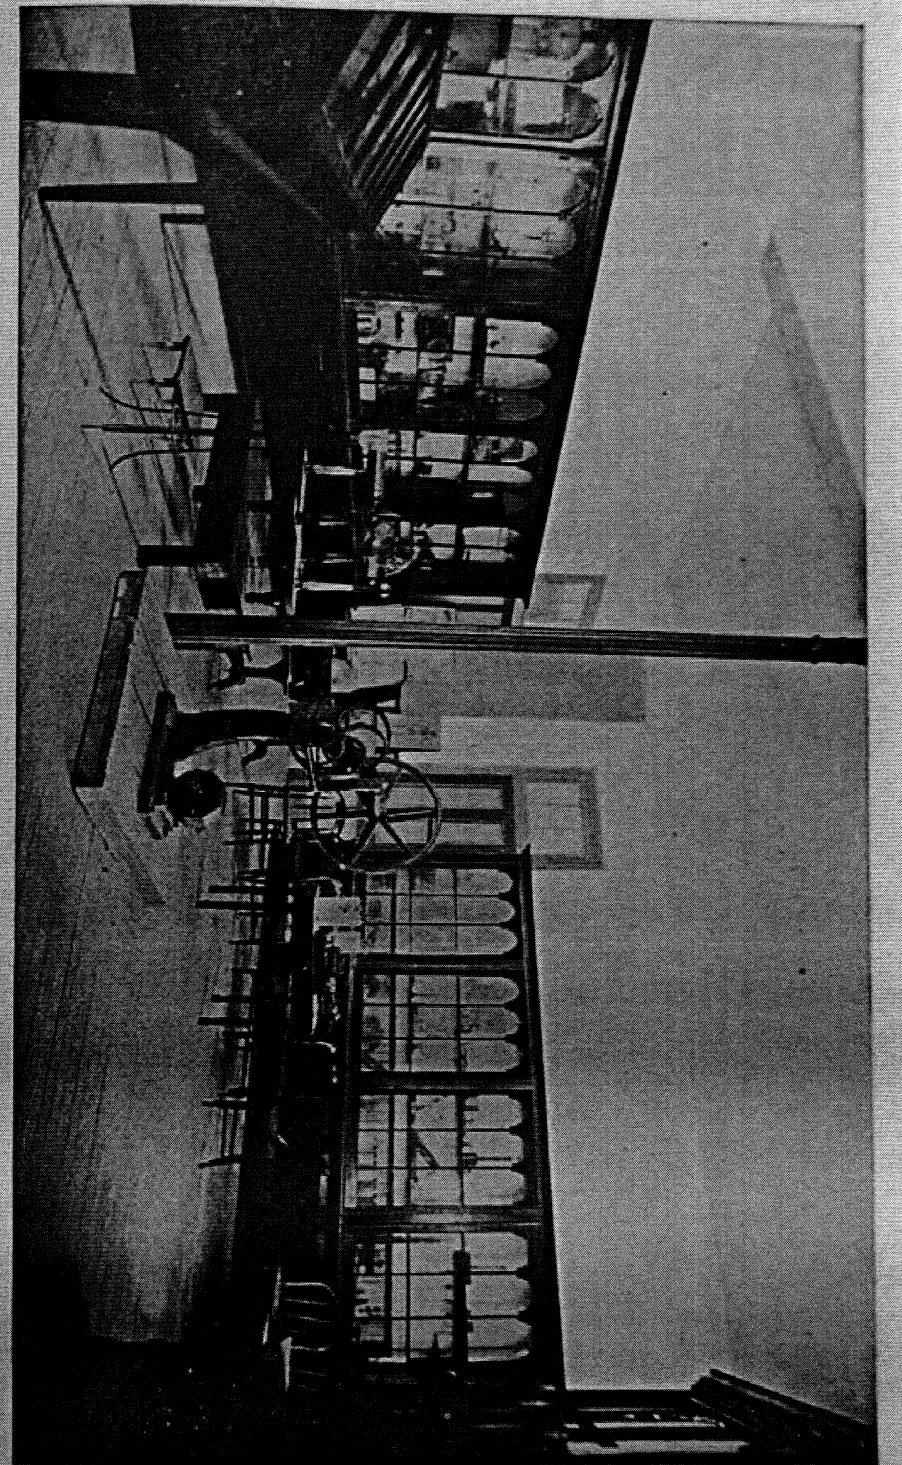

The College has long been in possession of a Museum of Natural History, supplemented by a very complete collection of Geological specimens.

With the increased space placed at their disposal by the newly erected wing, the Faculty intend to further increase the efficiency of this Department and to make it particularly rich in specimens illustrative of the Geological Formations, the Fauna and Flora of the Southern States.

As it often happens that a specimen of ore, a fossil or an historical relic, which by itself is useless and liable to be lost, when placed in a collection fills exactly some gap or forms the missing link in some chain of illustrations, the Faculty feel no hesitancy in soliciting from the friends of the institution, as well as from the general public interested in education, specimens of ore, minerals, shells and fossils, historical relics, ancient coins, preparations in alcohol, rare plants, birds and fishes, either mounted or not: in a word, any curious articles which may tend to foster the intelligent study of the Physical Sciences. Notable contributions to this Department will be marked with the name of the donors and acknowledgment made of them in the Annual Catalogue.

The College is thoroughly equipped with the apparatus necessary to illustrate the general principles of Physics. Recently additions have been made of new instruments for scientific research, especially those bearing upon Electricity.

THE SCIENCE ROOM.

SOCIETIES

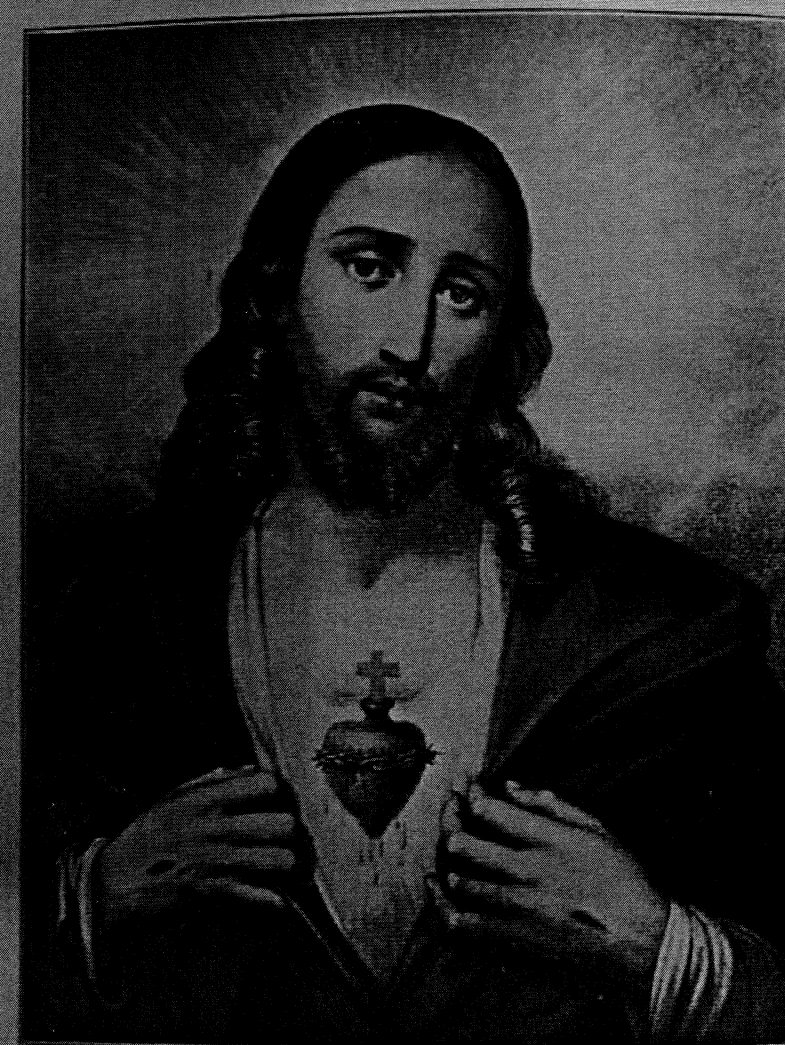

The League of the Sacred Heart.

The College being directed by the Brothers of the Sacred Heart, they naturally strive to make a manly devotion towards that "Divine Heart," a distinguishing mark of their pupils. Among the means to accomplish this end the League of the Sacred Heart holds a leading place. The College has been canonically created a Local Centre, and all the Catholic students, without a single exception, are members of this meritorious association. The good wrought during the past year has been a matter of deep consolation, and the Brothers attribute, to a great extent, the exemplary conduct and Catholic spirit among their students to the blessings radiating from that benign Heart.

AMETVR COR JESV!

Sodality of the Immaculate Conception

OF THE B. V. MARY.

UNDER THE PROTECTION OF ST. STANISLAUS.

This Sodality, canonically established by the Ordinary of the Diocese, December 8, 1878, is a branch of the Arch-Confraternity under the same title in Rome.

Its chief ends are:

- 1st. To propagate devotion to the Blessed Virgin Mary.
- 2d. To afford to each Sodalist spiritual assistance and encouragement, thereby facilitating the attainment of virtue and Christian piety.

On all Sundays and Holidays of Obligation the members assemble in their Oratory for the purpose of reciting the Office of the Blessed Virgin, which is always preceded by a short exhortation from the Director and terminated by the singing of some pious hymn.

The Officers and Consultors meet every month to treat of matters concerning the proper administration of the Sodality.

The good resulting from these pious exercises and frequent reception of the Sacrament has been most gratifying and consoling for both Professors and Students.

The Sodality is now in a flourishing condition and promises much for the future.

Reading Circle.

Recognizing the value of a regulated course of reading in the scheme of a polished education the faculty has opened to the students the College Library, which contains upwards of 5000 volumes of reference. The students have daily access to their own library of standard authors. One of the professors directs the reading, and, as far as is consonant with a reasonable liberty, outlines the authors to be read according to the needs of each pupil.

The Literary and Debating Society.

This Society, organized in due form and governed by fixed statutes, is intended to foster and perfect the literary taste of its members, to afford them practice in readiness of debate, to polish their delivery and to ground them in the principles of sound reasoning.

Every Saturday evening a public meeting takes place, and while the Senior students are held to original essays and debates, the Juniors are encouraged to take part in the recitations and declamations. To prepare the members for after life all meetings are conducted in strict accordance with parliamentary usages and are varied enough in character to satisfy the natural bent of individual minds.

MUSIC.

The work in this department is thorough and satisfactory. The students are taught to love the "Art Divine" and to regard its study as a privilege.

For years the excellence of our musical training has been admitted on all sides, and it will be the earnest effort of the management to preserve and increase this enviable reputation.

PROF. JOHN A. HEMERSBACH, a graduate of Cologne Conservatory, has been retained as head of this department for the ensuing session. He has had large experience in teaching music and thoroughly understands the late methods of instruction.

Philharmonic Societies.

HAYDN SYMPHONY CLUB.

This orchestra is composed of the most talented and proficient among the students of music. Organized to cultivate a correct taste for a superior grade of Music and to open up the treasures of exquisite harmony contained in the masters, it has furthered this end by selecting for rendition only classical works. The progress during the session has been most satisfactory.

 FRANCIS A. JORET.....2d Flute.
 BRO. L. FELIX.....1st Violin.
 JAMES A. GOODWIN.....1st Violin.
 CHARLES J. LYNCH.....2d Violin.
 THOMAS J. CONDON.....2d Violin.
 BRO. CLEONIS.....Bass Violin.

ST. STANISLAUS ORCHESTRA.

This organization is intended to encourage the students of music in general, to incite in them a laudable ambition to excel, and to furnish them a suitable medium to display their progress in this beautiful art. The choice selections rendered during the present scholastic year have greatly enhanced the solemnity of the religious festivals and added not a little to the pleasure of the literary and social reunions. This orchestra rehearses twice a week.

BRASS BANDS.

During the present session two Brass Bands have been formed among the students of the College. These Bands, while proving a fruitful source of amusement to the performers, afford an excellent opportunity for improvement in instrumental music, as well as furnish a stimulating accompaniment for all festivals and College outings. The bands, both of which rehearse daily, are directed by a competent professor.

ST. STANISLAUS BRASS BAND. 1895-96.

St. Cecilia's Choral Union.

The cultivation of sacred harmony is the prime object of this society. Founded to add solemnity and grace to religious ceremonies both at Church and in Chapel, this union deservedly ranks high among the College associations, and it is pleasant to state that the members, by their decorum and fervor, strive to merit the reward promised those who devoutly sing the Divine Praises. On festivals, the choir is reinforced by a full orchestral accompaniment.

Glee Club.

To cultivate the vocal talents of its members and to enliven the recreations and reunions of the students is the aim of the Glee Club. While, as the name implies, chief attention is given those songs that banish dull care from College life, the correct rendition of choice selections from the best composers is not forgotten. Full instrumentation always accompanies the best efforts of the Club and adds much to the brilliancy of the effect.

St. Stanislaus Cadets.

The Cadets were lately organized and are now fully equipped with the regulation arms and accoutrements. Membership in this organization is optional, and this plan, while obviating the serious inconveniences of the regular military school, brings about the same results by accustoming the members to habits of exactness, by training them to precision of movement and erectness of carriage, and by familiarizing them with that implicit obedience which characterizes military discipline. On Tuesday and Friday afternoons one hour is devoted to drilling and tactics, while on the afternoon of Thursday and Sunday a dress parade takes place. It is scarcely necessary to add that the time given to drilling does not interfere in any manner with the hours of study.

ATHLETIC.

The Brothers in charge of the College, persuaded that physical training forms an integral part of a comprehensive education, view with pleasure any reasonable sports which tend to develop the strength and vigor of students. The College Campus is an extensive and turfy tract, well fitted for hardy sports, and is dotted by shady oaks, under whose spreading branches are placed the gymnastic apparatus.

As the genial climate permits outdoor exercises at all seasons the gymnasium is well patronized the year round. Football has the most attraction on frosty winter mornings, but with the advent of the heated term the students devote all their spare energy to becoming experts in the national game of base ball.
